

Lou at stage 1. Our new online learner, Lou, is experiencing considerable frustration as he tries to log on and take part in his online forum

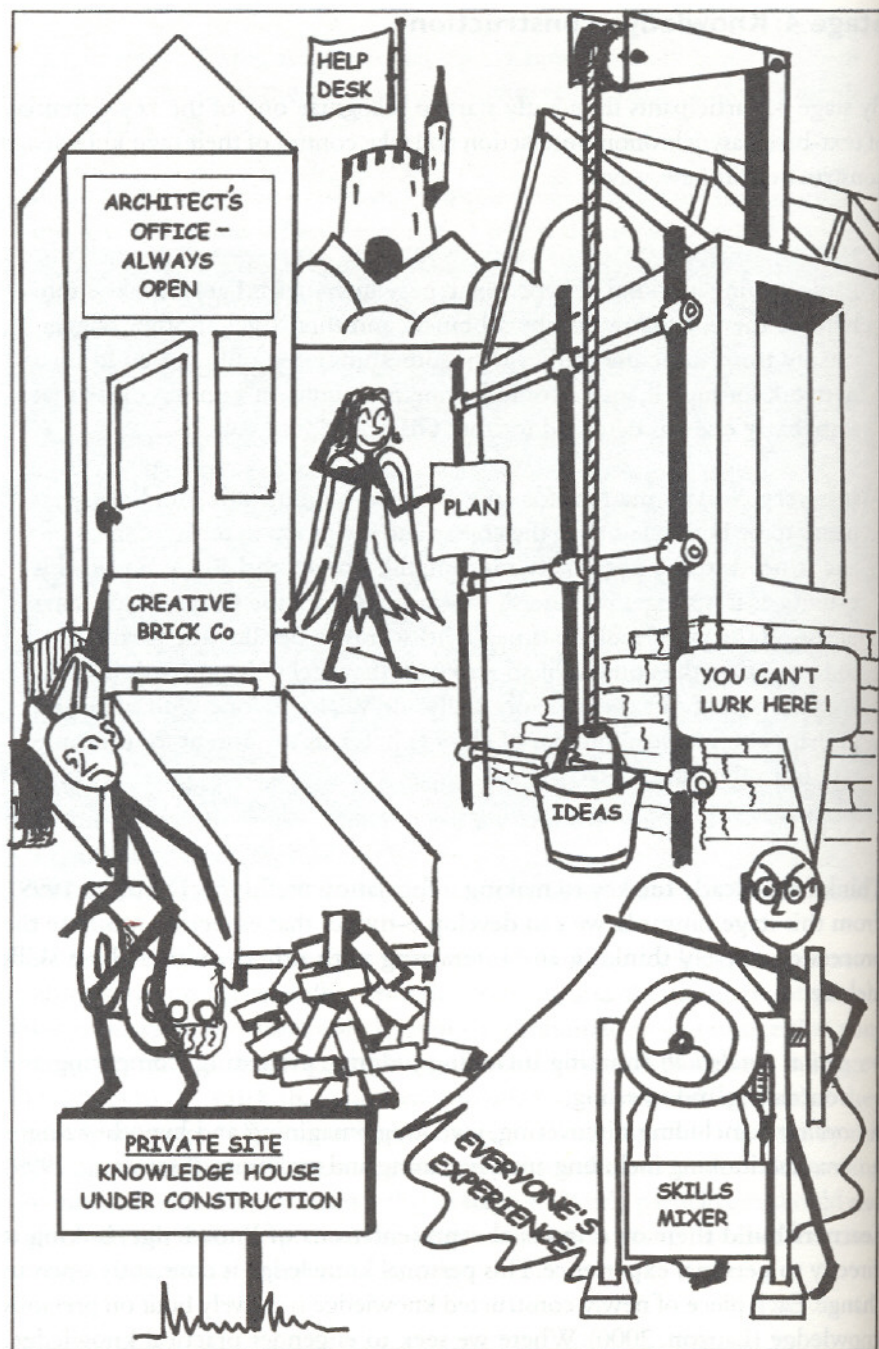

Stage 2. Here we can see Lou setting off in a journey of faith, carrying some baggage. The e-moderator is building the bridges for all the participants

Stage 3. Lou is getting used to being online and has started to work with some colleagues

By stage 4 Low's group is really constructing knowledge through online interaction, and successfully handling its own group dynamics

At stage 5 Lou is confidently setting off towards both assessment and his next course!
